EPL Ltd

World's largest maker of laminated plastic tubes for toothpaste, creams and cosmetics, with plants in India, China, Europe, the Americas and Thailand, selling to Colgate, Unilever, P&G and beauty brands. Set to merge with Indovida (Indorama's rigid packaging arm).

Concall-tracker report, filed under Q2-2027. Prepared 11 Nov 2026.

1. Snapshot

Number	Value	Plain read
Market cap	Rs 7,651 cr	What the market values the company at
Q2 FY27 revenue growth	30% (consolidated)	Highest growth EPL has ever reported; about 20% excluding raw-material price pass-through
Underlying operating margin	20.4%	Profit before interest, tax and depreciation per Rs 100 of sales, held steady through cost inflation
Q2 FY27 profit growth	5.6%	Much slower than sales: higher depreciation, tax and forex losses
ROE	28%	High return on shareholders' money (standalone figure from Screener)
Capex H1 FY27	Rs 315 cr	Almost double last year, mostly beauty-tube capacity

2. Concall coverage

Thirteen calls read from Nov 2023 to Nov 2026 (three years), plus the Mar 2026 merger call. Calls from May and Jul 2021 and Feb 2023 were not on Screener; they fall outside or at the edge of the window and were not needed.

> Latest concall highlights: Q2 FY27 (4 Nov 2026)
> - Revenue up 30%, about 20% excluding raw-material pass-through; every region grew 25-40%.

- Beauty and cosmetics tubes grew 43% and passed oral care as the biggest category in September; global share up about 1.3 points in a year.
- Guidance kept at high-teens growth (management says near 20%) and underlying margin of 20%.
- Indovida merger: CCI and exchange approvals in, NCLT filing done; completion hoped for by Q4 FY27; synergies of US$35-50 mn within three years.
- Europe margins hurt by a delayed move of printing to Poland; 2-3 more quarters to fix.

Business mix and capacity

- Sales are spread across regions (India, East Asia Pacific, Europe, Americas, Africa-Middle East); India standalone grew 30%. Beauty and oral care are about 44% each.
- Utilisation not given; capex is being run ahead of demand, Rs 625-700 cr this year.

3. Earning trigger thesis

The driver is beauty and cosmetics tubes, where EPL is taking share globally on new extruded-tube capacity in China, India, Europe and the US, plus Brazil and Thailand. Pricing now fully covers raw material inflation. The Indovida merger would double the company's size and add rigid packaging and new markets.

Trigger	What management said	Evidence so far	Time horizon	Strength
Beauty and cosmetics tubes	Gain share, build capacity ahead	43% growth; now largest category	Now	Strong
Brazil and Thailand plants	Margin-accretive growth	Thailand started Oct 2025, winning MNC customers	FY27	Strong
Indovida merger	US$35-50 mn synergies	Approvals coming through	FY28-FY30	Unproven

3b. Trigger check

Trigger type	Yes/No	What was said (date)
Debt cut	No	-
New business	Yes	Merger with Indovida to move beyond tubes into rigid packaging (Mar and Nov 2026)
Margin up	No	Underlying margin held at 20%, not rising (Nov 2026)
New management	Yes	Hemant Bakshi took over as MD and Global CEO from Anand Kripalu (Feb 2026 call)
New capacity	Yes	Capex Rs 625-700 cr this year for beauty-tube capacity; Thailand plant started Oct 2025
Big orders	No	-
Turnaround	No	-
Promoter buying	No	-

Single concrete driver: Beauty and cosmetics tubes are gaining global share on fresh capacity, and pricing now covers raw-material inflation.

3d. Management changes

Hemant Bakshi became MD and Global CEO around the start of 2026, succeeding Anand Kripalu. He is a former Unilever executive who ran Unilever Indonesia. His first moves: a sharper push into beauty tubes, heavier capex ahead of demand, and the Indovida merger.

4. Management consistency scorecard

Period	What was promised	What actually happened	Verdict
2024	Double-digit growth with 20% margin	FY25-FY26 growth around 10%, margin near 20%	Delivered
May 2025	Thailand plant contributes from H2 FY26	Started Oct 2025	Delivered
Aug 2026	Raised guidance to high teens	H1 FY27 up 28%	Delivered
2025-2026	Fix Europe operations	Poland move delayed 6-9 months; 2-3 more quarters	Missed
Aug 2026	Double-digit PAT growth in FY27	Q2 PAT up only 5.6%	Too-early

Steady story under two CEOs: double-digit growth, 20% margin, beauty tubes, new markets. The new CEO added a much bigger ambition with Indovida. Europe is the recurring sore spot.

5. Bottom line

Durable earning trigger? YES

Beauty-tube growth and share gains are in the numbers and backed by capacity that's already coming in.

Management consistent? YES

Guidance has been met or beaten for three years, with Europe the one repeated miss.

> 6. Checkpoints for next quarter
>
> - Revenue growth stays in the high teens or better
> - Underlying margin holds at 20%
> - NCLT approves the Indovida merger
