1 Snapshot

What the business actually is — and it is not what the research sheet says. Kalind is not a real estate developer. That classification is stale. Per its own Letter of Offer dated 23 January 2026, the company hires out earth-moving machinery — excavators, bulldozers, JCBs, loaders, cranes, road sweepers — to construction, mining and infrastructure customers, supplying the operator and the fuel with the machine, and also takes on civil and mechanical works. It is based in Surat, Gujarat.

It has been this business for about fifteen months. Incorporated 1994 as M. B. Parikh Finstocks, a stockbroker; control sold Dec 2019; renamed Arunis Abode Nov 2020 and turned into a real-estate consultancy; control sold again Dec 2024 to the Jasani family of Surat, completed by open offer April 2025. Shareholders changed the objects clause to earth-moving equipment on 12 June 2025; the name became Kalind Limited on 8 October 2025. Chairman is Dharmendrabhai Jasani (58); Managing Director is his son Ayush Jasani, aged 25, appointed 18 Oct 2025. Three unrelated businesses and two changes of control in six years.

Measure	Value	What it means in plain words
Market cap	₹858 cr	What the stock market says the whole company is worth. A microcap, listed only on BSE.
Share price / book value	₹9.39 / ₹2.33	The shares change hands at 4.0x the accounting value of the company's own assets.
FY26 total income	₹76.79 cr	Year to March 2026 — the first full year of the new business.
FY25 revenue from operations	₹0.01 lakh	Not a typo. One thousand rupees for the whole of the year to March 2025. FY24 was ₹1.22 cr.
FY26 net profit	₹27.30 cr	Profit after tax — against a ₹16.55 lakh loss the year before.
Q1 FY27 revenue / profit	₹34.91 cr / ₹15.02 cr	Up 156% and 186% on a year ago — but a year ago was month two of the business existing.
FY26 cash from operations	−₹80 cr	The most important number here. Operating profit was ₹37 cr; the business consumed ₹80 cr of cash. Roughly ₹2 of cash went out for every ₹1 of operating profit booked.
Debtor days (FY26)	197 days	Customers take over six months to pay. Very long for an equipment-hire business.
Working capital days	594 days	Cash tied up in unpaid bills and stock for the equivalent of 20 months of sales.
Borrowings (Mar 26)	₹10 cr	Genuinely almost no debt — because everything has been funded by issuing shares, not borrowing.
Promoter holding	13.76%	The founding family owns under a seventh of the company. It was 70.37% in June 2025. No shares are pledged.

2 Coverage

No concall transcripts were available on Screener — this report is based on a global web deep-dive. Kalind Ltd has never held an earnings call. The Screener page for scrip 526935 carries no "Concalls" section and the word "Transcript" does not appear on it — confirmed twice, by automated scrape and by fetching the page directly. There are no analyst notes, no broker coverage, no investor presentations and no credit-rating rationale from any agency: CARE, CRISIL, ICRA, Acuité and Infomerics were all checked and none rates this company, consistent with its having almost no bank borrowing. There is therefore no forum anywhere in the public record where management has ever been asked a question and had to answer it.

Everything below therefore comes from documents the company wrote about itself, or from its auditor and its SEBI-appointed monitoring agency — which in this case proved far more informative than a concall would have been.

Source actually used	Date	What it gave
Letter of Offer , rights issue (106 pages)	23 Jan 2026	Business description, full corporate history, 19 risk factors, promoter details, use of the money being raised. The single richest document.
Monitoring Agency Report — Infomerics Ratings	15 May 2026	Independent verification of where the ₹120 cr rights money actually went. Decisive.
Statement on Impact of Audit Qualification , FY26	7 May 2026	The auditor's qualification, verbatim, plus management's rebuttal.
BSE Reg-30 announcements (50 filings)	Mar–Aug 2026	Acquisition, withdrawal, auditor / CFO / secretary changes, split, bonus, fundraising.
Screener.in financial history	—	P&L, balance sheet, cash flow, ratios, quarterly and shareholding tables.
Company website kalindlimited.com	—	Equipment list and board names. Otherwise thin and partly contradicted by the filings (see §2c).

Looked for and could not find: any earnings call or transcript (none has ever taken place) · any credit rating · the FY26 annual report and its Management Discussion & Analysis, or MD&A — the section where the board explains the year in its own words — not yet published, so no management narrative exists for the first real trading year · the Q1 FY27 monitoring agency report, which would confirm whether the machinery has been delivered · any customer name, order-book figure or fleet count, never disclosed anywhere. The FY25 annual report covers the dormant shell and says nothing about the current business.

★ 2b. Latest update highlights

- Q1 FY27 (announced 30 July 2026, BSE filing). Standalone revenue ₹34.91 cr and profit ₹15.02 cr, against ₹13.60 cr and ₹5.25 cr a year earlier — the +156% / +186% growth headline. The comparison quarter is the first quarter the company ever traded. Growth off a base of essentially nothing is arithmetic, not evidence.
- A fourth fundraiser was proposed the same day. The board approved raising up to USD 65 million (roughly ₹570 cr, or two-thirds of the entire current market value) through a QIP, foreign currency convertible bonds or external commercial borrowings, subject to a shareholder postal ballot. This follows ₹60.5 cr raised in Sept 2025 and ₹120.5 cr in Feb 2026.
- Shares were split and bonus shares issued, record date 24 July 2026. Each ₹10 share became five ₹2 shares, then one free share was given for every two held. The stated purpose was "to enhance liquidity and facilitate greater participation from retail investors." No cash enters the business from either action.
- An Africa framework agreement, 23 July 2026 (BSE filing). A "Framework Teaming and Conditional Subcontracting Agreement" with Dharan International Limited, UK, to jointly bid for infrastructure work in Africa. The company's own filing states it is non-exclusive, creates no joint venture, and guarantees no minimum business or revenue. It is an agreement to try to win work, not work won.
- FY26 accounts carry a qualified audit opinion (see §4) and were revised on 22 May 2026, having first been published on 27 April 2026.

2c. Business mix & capacity — almost nothing is disclosed. Kalind publishes no fleet count, no utilisation rate, no order book, no customer names, no customer-concentration figure and no revenue split by equipment type, geography or segment. None of these numbers exist in any public document, and this report will not invent them. What is on record: the Letter of Offer says the company "does not have a workshop" and depends on customers' sites for maintenance, and "rel[ies] on third parties for the supply of earth moving equipment" — for much of FY26 it was sub-hiring machines rather than owning them. The website contradicts this, advertising a workshop opposite Hajira Lake, Surat. The equipment bought with the rights money — 45 BEML D155 and 65 BEML D80 bulldozers — is the only hard capacity figure anywhere, and as of the last monitoring report was paid for but not confirmed delivered. Separately, the FY26 audit report reveals the company "has undertaken contracts outside India" — overseas operations that the January 2026 Letter of Offer did not mention, saying only that the company "is currently operating in India through its office located in Surat."

★ 3. Earning-trigger thesis

No durable earning trigger can be evidenced from the public record. That is a conclusion, not a shrug. There is a perfectly coherent plan: raise money, buy 110 bulldozers, hire them out to infrastructure and mining contractors, collect rent. Equipment hire is a real business with real economics. But a trigger is something you can point to evidence for, and here every link in the chain is unverified or contradicted: the company's own auditor could not tie the revenue to the machinery; the machinery is paid for but not confirmed delivered, and the monitoring agency could not establish whether it is even new; the profit is not turning into cash; and the growth rates quoted are off a base of one thousand rupees.

Trigger	What the public record says	Evidence so far	Time horizon	Strength
110 new bulldozers put on hire	₹119.9 cr of the ₹120.5 cr rights issue was earmarked to buy 29 excavators and 133 bulldozers from "identified OEM suppliers", with no second-hand machinery.	₹80.54 cr was paid as advances on 19 Mar 2026 to two intermediaries, Satyanshu Trading Company and Sunshilp Transpower Pvt Ltd — not to an OEM. Quantities changed (110 dozers, no excavators). Delivery due within six months of agreement. Not confirmed delivered.	Unknown — earliest late 2026	Unproven Money spent; assets not yet verified to exist.
Reported revenue growth	FY26 income ₹76.8 cr from ₹0.01 lakh; Q1 FY27 up 156%.	Real money appears in the accounts. But the auditor could not link the revenue to any machinery or contract, and overseas contract documents were withheld from him.	Now	Not verifiable Audited, but qualified on exactly this point.
Africa infrastructure via Dharan International (UK)	Framework agreement signed 23 Jul 2026.	The company's own filing says it is non-exclusive, forms no joint venture and guarantees no minimum revenue . No project, value or date named.	Speculative	No evidence A permission to bid, nothing more.
Acquisition-led expansion	The ₹310 cr purchase of DBJ Multi Services — a company where both the Chairman and the MD are directors — was announced twice.	Withdrawn twice. Abandoned in Dec 2025, re-approved 28 Feb 2026, withdrawn again 7 Mar 2026 before the shareholder vote.	Abandoned	Withdrawn Cannot be a trigger; it no longer exists.
High operating margins	Operating margin 50–64% across recent quarters.	Not impossible for equipment hire, where depreciation sits below the margin line. But FY26 depreciation was only ₹2 cr, and the offsetting cost — machinery hire charges — is the precise line the auditor could not verify.	Now	Unsubstantiated The margin rests on the one unverified cost.

4 Management consistency scorecard

Date	What was stated or promised	What actually happened	Verdict
Sept 2025	First rights issue: ₹60.5 cr raised at ₹12.60 a share.	Used in part to buy Prasad Earth Movers Pvt Ltd — a company whose directors include the MD and his mother — making it a wholly-owned	Related-party subsidiary. Public money bought a promoter-family asset.

Dec 2025	Announced a ₹328.76 cr preferential share issue and the acquisition of DBJ Multi Services.	Board meeting cancelled; both abandoned within weeks.	Abandoned
23 Jan 2026 (Letter of Offer)	"The Company does not propose to acquire any second-hand machinery." Equipment to come from reputed OEMs. 29 excavators + 133 dozers.	Infomeries, the monitoring agency, reported that the ₹80.54 cr of advances went to two trading intermediaries and that "No description on equipment condition (whether new or second hand) is given in agreement and therefore the same cannot be ascertained." Excavators dropped; dozer count changed to 110.	Contradicted
23 Jan 2026	"Our Company is currently operating in India through its office located in Surat, Gujarat."	Three months later the FY26 audit report states the company "has undertaken contracts outside India" during that same year, with documentation not provided to the auditor.	Inconsistent
28 Feb 2026	Board approves the DBJ acquisition again — ₹310 cr, paid in shares — plus raising authorised capital from ₹122 cr to ₹1,000 cr and borrowing limits to ₹1,000 cr. Same meeting replaces the CFO, the statutory auditor and the secretarial auditor; the company secretary resigns.	The acquisition was withdrawn on 7 March 2026 , seven days later and three weeks before the shareholder meeting called to approve it, citing "reassessment of commercial and strategic considerations."	Reversed
By Mar 2026	Letter of Offer projected the entire ₹120.5 cr would be deployed by the end of FY26.	₹114.35 cr deployed. Infomeries noted the shortfall and added that " no approvals were obtained for the extension in utilization of the proceeds in accordance with applicable laws. "	Missed
27 Apr 2026	FY26 audited results published.	The mandatory Statement on Impact of Audit Qualifications was omitted , and filed only on 7 May after BSE queried it. The results themselves were then revised on 22 May 2026 .	Compliance lapse
Through FY26	Board and finance function stability.	Statutory auditor changed (JMMK & Co → D G K T & Co LLP, later renamed P H H A D & Co LLP); CFO changed; company secretary resigned and was replaced; secretarial auditor changed; independent director Gaurav Luthra resigned on 18 Mar 2026, under six months after joining .	High churn
Jun–Jul 2026	1:5 share split and 1:2 bonus, "to enhance liquidity and facilitate greater participation from retail investors."	Executed. Delivered as stated — but it is a cosmetic action that creates no value and widens the retail base.	Delivered

The audit qualification, in the auditor's own words — this is the crux. The FY26 accounts carry a qualified opinion, meaning the auditor signed off but formally recorded that part of the accounts could not be verified. It is the company's first ever. The auditor wrote that management "has not provided us with adequate reconciliation, correlation, or sufficient appropriate audit evidence to establish a clear linkage between (i) machinery taken on hire from third parties, (ii) machinery deployed in execution of customer contracts, including those executed outside India, and (iii) the corresponding hire income, hire charges, and related expenses recognized during the year," and that "in respect of certain overseas contracts, relevant supporting documentation and evidences were not made available to us." He added that for certain expenses, "invoices, agreements and other corroborative evidence, were not made available to us for audit verification," and that no gratuity provision was made because no actuarial valuation had been done. Read plainly: the auditor could not tie the machines to the contracts to the revenue. That is not a footnote — it is the entire business. Management called the issues "primarily procedural and documentation-related", said the records "have since been substantially organized", and noted that a CFO was appointed "to improve the compilation and to maintain supporting documents and backup papers" — itself an admission that the record-keeping behind a ₹27 cr profit was not adequate when it was reported.

Narrative drift and the ownership picture. There is no long story to drift from — the business is fifteen months old — but within those months the direction has changed repeatedly: a ₹328 cr acquisition announced and dropped, the same acquisition revived at ₹310 cr and dropped again a week later, authorised capital voted up eight-fold and left unused, and now a fourth fundraise of USD 65 million. Meanwhile the promoters' own stake has fallen from 70.37% to 13.76% in twelve months. They were not selling in the market — the dilution came from two rights issues they largely did not take up, and the Letter of Offer said in advance that they "may renounce a part of their Rights Entitlement in the open market." Even in the February 2026 issue, where they did buy 75.7 lakh shares, their stake still fell from 18.42% to 13.92%. The family that took control eighteen months ago and put its own name on the company now owns under a seventh of it, while the shareholder count has gone from 2,884 to 11,981. No shares are pledged, a genuine positive. But the family also controls at least six other companies in the same or adjacent lines — DBJ Multi Service, Prasad Earth Movers, Kalind Infraproject, Kalind Earth Movers, ADJ Rental and SHA Logistics — a conflict the Letter of Offer discloses in its own risk factor 19, and one that matters greatly in a company whose largest unverified cost is machinery hired in from third parties.

5 Bottom line — two verdicts

Durable earning trigger? → NO — not on the evidence available

The honest position is that there is insufficient evidence to support any earning trigger, for four specific reasons. First, the growth is arithmetic off nothing: FY25 revenue from operations was ₹1,000, so a jump to ₹76.8 cr produces spectacular percentages that say nothing about durability, and the Q1 FY27 "+156%" is measured against the company's first trading quarter. Second, the earnings cannot be substantiated — the auditor formally recorded that he could not link the machinery, the contracts and the revenue to one another, and that overseas contract documents were withheld from him. Third, the assets meant to generate future income are paid for but not shown to exist: ₹80.54 cr went out as advances to two trading intermediaries rather than the equipment makers named in the offer document, and the monitoring agency could not establish whether the machines are new or second-hand, despite the offer document promising no second-hand machinery. Fourth, the profit is not cash: FY26 operating profit of ₹37 cr came with negative ₹80 cr of operating cash flow and 197 days of unpaid customer bills. A company earning real money hiring out real machines does not usually look like that. The Africa agreement guarantees no revenue by its own terms, and the transformational acquisition has been withdrawn twice. Against all this, the shares trade at four times book value. The plan is legible; the evidence for it is not.

Management consistent? → NO

This one is not close, and it does not depend on the absence of concalls — it rests on documents management filed itself. In roughly one year: an acquisition announced, abandoned, re-approved and abandoned again within seven days of board approval; a promise of no second-hand machinery followed by a monitoring agency unable to confirm the machinery's condition; a statement that operations are confined to Surat followed three months later by an audit report describing overseas contracts; a deployment deadline missed with the monitoring agency noting no regulatory approval was obtained for the extension; the mandatory audit-qualification statement omitted and filed only after the exchange asked; audited results published then revised a month later; and the auditor, CFO, company secretary, secretarial auditor and an independent director all replaced or departed inside one financial year. Add the first qualified audit opinion in the company's history, on the one thing that matters most, and the use of a public rights issue to buy a company owned by the promoter family. Promoter ownership has fallen from 70% to 14% while the retail shareholder base quadrupled, and a fourth raise — USD 65 million — is already on the table. The limitation to acknowledge is that with no earnings call, no analyst coverage, no credit rating and no annual report yet published for the first real trading year, management has never once been required to explain any of this in public. That absence of scrutiny is itself part of the finding. On the documentary record that does exist, consistency is not in evidence.
