1. Snapshot

What the business does: Hardwyn sells the metal fittings that go on doors, windows, furniture and kitchens: handles, hinges, locks, glass fittings and wire baskets. Customers are dealers, builders, institutions and government projects, almost all in India. It's a small company that sources more than it manufactures.

Number	Value	Plain read
Q1 FY27 revenue (consolidated)	₹34.6 cr	Down about 19% from ₹42.9 cr a year ago. A poor start to a year that's meant to begin a 30-35% growth run.
Q1 FY27 revenue (standalone, Screener)	₹30.1 cr	Down about 6%. The bigger fall is in the group figure.
Q1 FY27 EBITDA (operating profit before interest, tax, depreciation)	₹4.5 cr	Down from ₹5.7 cr. Margin about 13%, close to last year's, so the issue is sales, not pricing.
Q1 FY27 net profit	₹2.8 cr	Down about 22% from ₹3.6 cr.
FY26 net profit (full year)	₹13.2 cr	The record year the last report covered.
Return on equity	~3%	Profit earned on shareholders' money is tiny, because a big chunk of the balance sheet sits in a related-party stake.
Market value (Aug 2026, media)	~₹1,190 cr	Still a very rich price for a business earning around ₹13 cr a year.

2. Coverage

No concall transcripts are available on Screener, so this report is based on a global web deep-dive. Hardwyn doesn't hold analyst calls. This update covers the April-June 2026 quarter, using only material published up to 30 Sep 2026.

Period	Date	Source
FY22 → FY26 results, capital actions	to May 2026	Carried forward from the Q4-2026 report
Q1 FY27 results, bonus allotment, filings	Jul-Aug 2026	Newly read ★

Sources: Q1 FY27 results coverage (Multibagg, Sahi, Kotak Neo, Univest); exchange-filing summaries on the bonus allotment and secretarial auditor resignation; Screener.in financial tables; search of filings for the Fiba Hardwyn Locks scheme. One site (Arthneeti) claimed Q1 sales rose about 40%; that conflicts with the filed numbers and was ignored.

2b. Latest update highlights: Q1 FY27 (results Aug 2026)

- Sales fell. Group revenue ₹34.6 cr, down about 19%; profit ₹2.8 cr, down about 22%. No reason was given in any coverage, and the company gave no commentary.
- Margins held. EBITDA margin about 13%, in line with a year ago. Read: the products still earn the same; fewer of them were sold.
- Bonus done. 2:5 bonus shares (two new for every five held) allotted on 29 Jul 2026. This changes the share count, not the business.
- Auditor exit. The secretarial auditor (who checks legal and listing compliance) resigned with effect from 5 Aug 2026. No reason was disclosed.
- Merger still pending. No update found on the scheme to absorb the remaining 67% of Fiba Hardwyn Locks. It's been in draft since 2023.

2c. Business mix & capacity

- Domestic vs export: Not disclosed. Exports are still only a stated plan (South Asia, Middle East, Africa), so the business reads as almost all domestic.
- Capacity utilisation: Not disclosed. The company is asset-light (small fixed assets against sales), so growth depends on products and dealers, not factory space.

2d. Since our last report (builds on Q4-2026, FY26 results May 2026)

Prior verdicts: Trigger MAYBE, Consistency MAYBE.

Prior read	What we said then	What's new	Movement
Trigger: products + dealers growth	Real momentum, small base	First quarter of FY27 shrank by a fifth	Slipping
₹1,000 cr revenue by FY32 (30-35% a year)	Unproven	Year one started with a decline	Slipping
Consistency: good operator, noisy capital story	MAYBE	Bonus completed; auditor resignation; merger silent	Unchanged to worse
Fiba Hardwyn Locks merger	Still in draft	No progress found	Stalled
Exports push	Intent only	Nothing disclosed	No news

Verdict change: Both stay MAYBE, but both lean weaker. One bad quarter doesn't kill a growth story, but it's exactly the wrong start for a company that just promised to grow 30-35% a year.

3. Earning-trigger thesis ★

The case is still India's building and renovation demand, met by more product designs (mortise handles, kitchen baskets), more dealers in smaller cities and government orders, plus eventually folding in a related locks maker. Until this quarter the base business had a real record of growing sales and margins. Now the sales line has turned down with no explanation, and the big target looks further away.

Trigger	What management said	Evidence so far	Horizon	Strength	Change since last report
Product + dealer expansion	New designs and dealers drive volume	Strong FY22-FY26 record; Q1 FY27 sales down ~19%	Ongoing	Moderate → Weak	↓ first decline in a while
₹1,000 cr by FY32	30-35% yearly growth	Year one began with a fall	FY32	Unproven	↓
Fiba Hardwyn Locks	Absorb the locks business	33.5% held; rest still in draft scheme	Multi-year	Weak / watch	unchanged
Exports	New overseas markets	None disclosed	Future	Unproven	unchanged

4. Management consistency scorecard

Period	What was promised	What actually happened	Verdict
FY22 → FY26	Grow sales and margins	Sales roughly doubled, margin up sharply	Delivered
FY23	Buy 33.5% of Fiba Hardwyn Locks	Done via a pricey related-party share swap	Partly / concern
FY23 → now	Merge in the rest of Fiba Locks	Still a draft, three years on	Missed / stalled
FY26	Preferential issue	Withdrawn	Dropped
FY26 → Q1 FY27	2:5 bonus	Allotted 29 Jul 2026	Delivered
FY27 onward	30-35% yearly growth to ₹1,000 cr	Q1 sales down ~19%	Off to a bad start

Narrative drift: The talk stays big (a ₹1,000 cr target, exports, a large merger), while the delivery this quarter went the other way, and there's no call or commentary to explain why. The capital-market activity keeps coming (bonus, auditor change) while the long-pending merger goes quiet. It's the same pattern as before, just with the operating side no longer covering for it.

5. Bottom line: two verdicts

Durable earning trigger? → MAYBE vs last quarter: unchanged (weakening)

The base business has a real past record, and one weak quarter isn't proof the story's over. But the driver that justified MAYBE, steady sales growth, just stopped showing up, and nobody has said why. Another down quarter would make this a NO.

Management consistent? → MAYBE vs last quarter: unchanged (weakening)

They did complete the bonus. Everything else points the wrong way: a fresh growth promise followed by a sales drop, a stalled three-year-old merger, and an auditor walking out without a stated reason. It's held at MAYBE only because the operating record before this quarter was genuinely good.
