1 Snapshot

Kolte-Patil builds and sells homes, mostly in Pune, with a smaller and growing business in the Mumbai region and a token presence in Bengaluru. Its flagship asset is Life Republic, a 400+ acre township near Hinjewadi. Since August 2025 it has been 40%-owned by Blackstone, which sits alongside the founding Patil family as a joint promoter.

Read this before you look at any profit number

Indian developers using the completed-contract method do not book a sale as revenue when the customer signs. They book it years later, when the building is finished and possession is handed over. So reported revenue is not a measure of how much the company sold this quarter — it is a measure of how much it finished this quarter. That is why sales swung from ₹1,539cr (FY25) to ₹658cr (FY26), and why the June 2026 quarter shows ₹882cr against ₹56cr a year earlier. The ₹882cr quarter is roughly 16 times the year-earlier quarter. That is a completions milestone, not a 16-fold improvement in the business. The three numbers that actually tell you how the company is trading are pre-sales (the rupee value of flats booked by customers in the period), collections (cash actually received from those buyers) and launches. This report leads with those.

Item	Number	What it means in plain words
Pre-sales, Q1 FY27	₹617cr (vs ₹616cr)	Bookings were dead flat year on year. This is the number that matters, and it did not move.
Pre-sales volume, Q1 FY27	0.65 mn sq ft (vs 0.84)	They sold 23% less floor area . Flat rupees came entirely from a 29% higher price per sq ft, not from selling more homes.
Collections, Q1 FY27	₹715cr (vs ₹550cr)	Cash in from buyers rose 30%. The genuine bright spot — past sales are converting to cash on schedule.
Pre-sales, FY26	₹2,605cr (vs ₹2,791cr)	Down 6.7% on the prior year — the second straight year of falling volumes.
Reported sales, FY26	₹658cr (from ₹1,539cr)	Fewer buildings crossed the completion line, so less revenue was recognised. Says nothing about demand.
Operating profit / net profit, FY26	—₹53cr / —₹2cr	A loss-making year at the operating line. Fixed overheads sat against a thin recognition base.
ROCE (return on capital employed)	1.39%	For every ₹100 of capital in the business, FY26 threw off ₹1.39 of operating return. Worse than a bank deposit.
Net debt, 30 Jun 2026	—₹417cr as reported	Company says net cash . But that strips out ₹471cr of convertible and zero-coupon debentures. Count those as debt and it is a mild net debt of ~₹54cr .
Blackstone stake	40.0%	35,472,652 shares. Blackstone is now the single largest holder and a classified promoter, ahead of the family's 33.8%.
Market cap / price / P/E	₹4,126cr / ₹465 / 24.1x	Priced at 24 times earnings on a year in which the company barely broke even. The market is paying for the pipeline, not the P&L.
Book value / dividend	₹138 / nil	Trading at ~3.4x book with no dividend. All the return has to come from execution.

2 Concall coverage

Period	What exists	Note
FY22 – Q1 FY26 (and 2016 calls)	20 transcripts on disk	Full, normal quarterly calls with open analyst Q&A. Last one: 30 July 2025 (Q1 FY26).
Q2 FY26 (Nov 2025)	Call cancelled	Recovered instead: investor presentation + the exchange notice cancelling the call.
Q3 FY26 (Feb 2026)	Call cancelled	Recovered instead: investor presentation + cancellation notice.
Q4 & FY26 (May 2026)	Call cancelled	Recovered instead: investor presentation + cancellation notice.
Q1 FY27 (Aug 2026)	Call cancelled	Recovered instead: Q1 FY27 investor presentation (10 Aug 2026) + cancellation notice.

Honest note: no analyst has been able to ask this company a question for over a year

Kolte-Patil has cancelled four consecutive post-results conference calls — November 2025, February 2026, May 2026 and August 2026. The wording of the notices barely changes: the company is in "a phase of integration and leadership transition" and is "undertaking internal restructuring measures... to further strengthen governance." The same sentence has now been used for a full year.

What I obtained: all four investor presentations (Q2 FY26, Q3 FY26, Q4/FY26, Q1 FY27) plus all four cancellation notices, sourced from the company's own filings — so the numbers for the missing year are complete and audited-basis.

What I could not obtain: any transcript, because none exists. Screener lists these four quarters with a transcript label and no link for exactly that reason. That means no follow-up questions, no unscripted answers, no analyst pushback, and no quantified forward guidance for twelve months. Everything after July 2025 in this report is management's own curated slide deck. Judge the confidence of every forward-looking statement below accordingly.

2b Latest quarter highlights

From the Q1 FY27 investor presentation, 10 August 2026 — there was no earnings call

- Pre-sales ₹617cr, versus ₹616cr a year ago — flat. This is the headline that matters and management does not lead with it. Underneath, volume fell 23% to 0.65 mn sq ft while average realisation jumped 29% to ₹9,442/sq ft. They held the rupee number by raising prices, not by selling more homes.
- Collections ₹715cr, up 30%; operating cash flow ₹212cr, up 29%. Genuinely good. Construction is hitting milestones so buyers are paying. This is the strongest part of the quarter.
- Reported total income ₹937cr and PAT ₹146cr, against ₹97cr and a ₹17cr loss. Driven purely by handing over ~1.27 mn sq ft of completed projects in Pune and Mumbai. A calendar effect, not a step-change in trading.
- Six Mumbai society redevelopment projects added, ~₹6,000cr of gross development value, ~2 mn sq ft. Santacruz (W) ₹1,930cr, Andheri (W)-Lokhandwala ₹1,420cr, Oshiwara ₹800cr, Versova ₹750cr, Ghatkopar (E) ₹600cr, Vashi ₹500cr. Announced in August 2026, i.e. after the quarter closed. This is the single largest business-development action in the company's recent history and more than doubles the Mumbai pipeline.
- Only 0.78 mn sq ft launched, both projects in Pune — The Winds, Bhugaon (₹330cr GDV) and a new tower at Little Earth, Kiwale (₹214cr). Roughly ₹544cr of new supply against ₹617cr sold. The launch engine is running slowly.
- Net cash of ₹417cr, as management defines it. Gross debt ₹1,014cr, cash and current investments ₹960cr, and ₹471cr of convertible/zero-coupon debentures deducted as if they were equity. Strip that adjustment out and the company is roughly flat: about ₹54cr of net debt. Still a conservatively financed developer either way, and CRISIL reaffirmed AA-/Stable.

2c Business mix & capacity

Where the sales come from (Q1 FY27 pre-sales, ₹617cr): Life Republic township, Pune ₹212cr (34%) · rest of Pune ₹220cr (36%) · Mumbai ₹183cr (30%) · Bengaluru ₹2cr (0.3%). Pune is ~70% of the business. Mumbai is the growth story — it carries a ₹19,123/sq ft realisation against ₹7,280 at Life Republic, so it pulls the blended price up fast even at modest volume. Bengaluru is effectively dormant.

Capacity — the project portfolio (38.02 mn sq ft saleable, ~₹34,400cr GDV): ongoing and unsold 5.56 mn sq ft · under approval 6.71 mn sq ft · land bank 25.75 mn sq ft. By region: Pune excluding Life Republic 18.17 mn sq ft (₹14,200cr), Life Republic 16.13 mn sq ft (₹11,100cr), Mumbai 3.49 mn sq ft (₹8,900cr), Bengaluru 0.23 mn sq ft (₹200cr). Track record: 68 projects, >33 mn sq ft delivered since 1991. Nineteen Mumbai redevelopment projects signed to date (six completed, four ongoing, nine future) — up from fourteen in November 2025.

Not disclosed: the company does not break the portfolio into residential versus commercial. Its stated business is residential and it describes itself as such; the historic IT-park and commercial work is not sized separately in current disclosure. Nor is unsold-inventory value given in the presentations. Only ~14.5% of the 38 mn sq ft portfolio (the 5.56 mn sq ft ongoing-and-unsold) is actually saleable today — the rest needs approvals or is raw land, so the ₹34,400cr GDV headline is a decade-plus number, not near-term capacity.

3 Earning-trigger thesis

The case, stated fairly

Blackstone put ₹417cr of fresh equity into the company and bought its way to 40% ownership. That capital plus an institutional balance sheet is meant to convert a competent but capital-constrained Pune developer into a multi-city platform — buying land and redevelopment rights faster, launching more, and shifting the mix toward higher-priced Mumbai product. The August 2026 addition of ₹6,000cr of Mumbai GDV is the first hard evidence that this is actually happening. What is completely absent so far is any sign of it in pre-sales, which have now gone flat-to-down for two years.

Trigger	What management said	Evidence so far	Time horizon	Strength
Blackstone capital & governance	"Strategic partnership... marks a pivotal milestone"; growth capital for expansion (Q1 FY26 call and every deck since)	Done and paid for. ₹417cr preferential infusion landed; 40% held; three Blackstone executives on a six-member board. Cash rose from ₹690cr to ₹1,174cr in FY26.	Already in the numbers	Strong
MMR redevelopment scale-up	"We intend to expand our footprint in MMR region as well beyond re-development" (July 2025); "Reaffirming MMR as a priority market" (Aug 2026)	Six projects, ~₹6,000cr GDV added Aug 2026. Mumbai is already 30% of Q1 FY27 pre-sales at 2.6x Pune realisations. Signed Mumbai projects 14 → 19.	FY28–FY31 for revenue; pre-sales from FY28	Strong
Price-led realisation growth	"Strategic price revision across projects"; premiumisation of the portfolio	Realisation ₹7,758 (FY25) → ₹8,314 (FY26) → ₹9,442 (Q1 FY27). Real and sustained. But volumes fell 13% in FY26 and 23% in Q1 FY27 — part of this is buyers walking away.	Now, but self-limiting	Medium
Cash conversion / collections	Repeated emphasis on "faster sales, approvals, construction and collections"	Delivered cleanly. Collections ₹2,432cr (FY25) → ₹2,689cr (FY26) → ₹715cr in Q1 FY27 (+30%). Operating cash flow ₹791cr in FY26.	Now	Strong
Revenue and profit recognition catch-up	"We expect a steady growth in revenue recognition" as completions land (July 2025)	Arrived in Q1 FY27: ₹882cr sales, ₹159cr net profit, 22% EBITDA margin. Mechanically true and will stay lumpy.	FY27–FY28	Medium
			Unproven	Weak

Pre-sales growth — the actual test	"We are quite confident of delivering above 30% Y-o-Y growth" in FY26 pre-sales (July 2025)	Failed. FY26 pre-sales fell 6.7% to ₹2,605cr. Q1 FY27 flat. No quantified FY27 target has been given by anyone.
Launch pipeline	~₹5,000cr of FY26 launches promised, "₹4,000-odd in Pune" and ~₹1,200cr Mumbai (July 2025)	FY26 launches reported only as 4.6 mn sq ft — the GDV figure was quietly dropped from disclosure. Q1 FY27 launched just 0.78 mn sq ft / ~₹544cr, all in Pune. Mumbai launches slipped on eco-sensitive-zone and height clearances.	Slipping right	Weak

4 Management consistency scorecard

Period	Promised	What happened	Verdict
May 2025 (Q4 FY25 call)	FY25 pre-sales "remained at around ₹2,800 crore, impacted due to deferment in planned project launches owing to regulatory and procedural delays." Guidance deferred: "may take a quarter or two to provide you the guidance for the year."	An honest admission that launches, not demand, were the constraint. Fair disclosure. The regulatory-delay excuse then recurred every quarter.	Candid
July 2025 (Q1 FY26 call — the last call ever held)	"We are quite confident that this year as well, we will have 30% plus year-on-year growth in terms of the presale guidance." Also: ~₹5,000cr of FY26 launches; business development "definitely better than the last year"; margins "in teens"; open offer awaiting SEBI clearance.	FY26 pre-sales came in at ₹2,605cr — a 6.7% decline. Against a guided ~₹3,630cr that is a shortfall of roughly ₹1,000cr, or 28% below the promise. Business development was ₹2,250cr of GDV against FY25's ₹4,000cr — not better, materially worse. FY26 operating margin was negative 8%, not "teens". The FY26 launch GDV was never disclosed at all.	Missed badly
Aug–Sep 2025 (Blackstone deal)	Preferential allotment done; open offer for 26% at ₹329/share pending SEBI approval; "specific timeline cannot be committed."	Executed exactly as described. Secondary purchase of 22,796,353 shares (25.71%) from promoters at ₹329 for ₹751cr completed 11 Aug 2025, taking Blackstone to 35,472,038 shares. Open offer ran 22 Aug – 9 Sep 2025 and drew 614 shares — near-zero, because the market price was well above ₹329. Final holding 35,472,652 shares = 40.0%. Total outlay ~₹1,168cr. Promoter group fell 59.5% → 33.8%; Blackstone became a joint promoter with joint control.	Delivered
Nov 2025	"Board and leadership changes to unlock next phase of growth."	Group CEO Atul Bohra — the man who had given the +30% guidance sixteen weeks earlier — resigned effective 11 November 2025. The post-results call was cancelled the same day. Avani Davda joined as independent director; a Chief Development Officer and Group CHRO were hired. Rajesh Patil stayed on as MD. The board went to six, three of them Blackstone executives, one of them the founder.	Disruptive
Feb & May 2026	Nothing said. Both calls cancelled with identical boilerplate. Decks list ten qualitative "strategic priorities" — institutional platform, premiumisation, ESG — with not one number attached.	FY26 closed with pre-sales down 6.7% and volumes down 13%. Collections and realisations at record highs. The CEO chair stayed empty. Investors got slides and no dialogue.	Opaque
Aug 2026 (Q1 FY27)	Fourth consecutive call cancelled. Same "integration and leadership transition"	Pre-sales flat, volumes down 23%, collections up 30%, record reported profit from completions. The	Mixed sentence. Six Mumbai redevelopment projects announced, ~₹6,000cr GDV.

business-development promise was finally kept — a year late and after the guidance-giver had left. A new CEO, Hrishikesh Parandekar, was announced on 19 August 2026, effective 24 August — leaving the top operating job vacant for roughly nine and a half months.

Narrative drift. The story has changed twice in one year and neither change was explained on a call. Until July 2025 this was a straightforward operating story told in numbers: 23% pre-sales CAGR, 30%-plus growth ahead, ₹5,000cr of launches, teen margins. From November 2025 the numbers vanished from the narrative and were replaced by institutional language — "pivotal milestone", "institutionally led real estate platform", "portfolio premiumisation" — none of it quantified, none of it defensible under questioning because there was no questioning. Meanwhile the disclosure set itself shrank: launch GDV stopped being reported annually, and no forward pre-sales target has been put in writing since the one that was missed. There is no FY27 pre-sales guidance to quote, exactly or otherwise — the company has not issued one. The most recent quantified forward statement on record remains the July 2025 promise of "above 30% Y-o-Y growth", made by an executive who left four months later and against an outcome that came in negative. A company that stops holding calls in the same week it loses its CEO, and stays silent for four quarters while its bookings go sideways, is not being transparent; it is managing the flow of information. The counterweight is real and should be said: what the company did disclose has been accurate, collections and cash flow have been delivered on the dot, and the Blackstone transaction was executed precisely as described.

5 Bottom line

Earning trigger: REAL BUT UNPROVEN — and priced as if it were already working

The trigger is not imaginary. Blackstone's ₹1,168cr entry, the ₹417cr of new equity inside the company, a balance sheet that is roughly debt-free on any reading, AA+ credit, record collections of ₹2,689cr, and an August 2026 addition of ₹6,000cr of Mumbai redevelopment GDV that more than doubles the MMR pipeline — that is a genuine platform being assembled, and Mumbai's ₹19,123/sq ft realisations against Pune's ₹7,280 explain why it is worth assembling. But the one line that would prove the trigger is working has not moved. Pre-sales were ₹2,791cr in FY25, ₹2,605cr in FY26, and ₹617cr in a June quarter that matched the prior year to within ₹1cr. Volumes have fallen two years running — 13% in FY26, 23% in Q1 FY27 — and the flat rupee line is being held up by 29% price increases, which is a lever that works until buyers stop paying. FY26 ROCE was 1.39% and the company lost money at the operating line. At ₹465 and 24 times earnings on 3.4x book, the market is already paying for the FY29 platform. The Mumbai pipeline needs to start converting into launches and bookings within the next two to three quarters; if it does not, the price has nothing to stand on.

Management consistency: POOR — a badly missed guidance followed by a year of silence

In July 2025 the Group CEO said he was "quite confident" of "above 30% Y-o-Y growth" in FY26 pre-sales. The company delivered minus 6.7%. He promised ~₹5,000cr of launches and business development "definitely better than the last year"; the launch GDV was never reported and business development came in at ₹2,250cr against ₹4,000cr. He promised margins "in teens"; the year printed minus 8%. Four months after that call he resigned, the post-results call was cancelled on the same day, and it has been cancelled three more times since — the same "integration and leadership transition" sentence recycled for twelve months while the chief executive's chair sat empty until 24 August 2026. That is not a communication gap; it is a full year in which nobody could ask why the guidance failed. What restrains this from being an outright red flag is that the disclosed facts have held up: the presentations reconcile to the filings, the Blackstone transaction happened exactly as described down to the ₹329 price and the 614 shares tendered, and collections and operating cash flow have hit every mark. The honest limit on this verdict is the missing year itself. With no transcript since 30 July 2025 there is no way to test management's reasoning, no unscripted answer to weigh, and no way to know whether the flat bookings reflect deliberate price discipline or genuine demand softness — so confidence in any forward view here should be held low until a call is actually held. The new CEO's first earnings call, if he holds one, is the single most informative event ahead.
