Shadowfax Technologies Ltd

Concall Tracker, Q1 2027 update | Screener ticker SHADOWFAX (BSE 544685) | India last-mile logistics | Covers calls up to the Q1 FY27 call (31 Jul 2026)

1. Snapshot

What it does: Shadowfax is India's biggest outsourced last-mile delivery company. When you order from an e-commerce site, a D2C (direct-to-consumer) brand or a 10-minute quick-commerce app, Shadowfax's gig riders often carry the parcel from the warehouse or dark store to your door. It earns a fee per delivery. Three lines: Express Parcel (intercity e-commerce parcels, the bulk of revenue), Hyperlocal (quick commerce and food) and Other Logistics (high-value deliveries via its CriticaLog acquisition, plus its new dark stores).

Market value	Rs 16,911 cr	What the stock market values the whole company at today. Up from about Rs 13,350 cr at our last report.
Q1 FY27 revenue (Apr-Jun 2026)	Rs 1,358 cr	Sales in the quarter, up 65% on last year and 10% on the March quarter. Fifth straight quarter of 65%+ growth.
Q1 FY27 net profit	Rs 65 cr	Its best quarter ever, up from Rs 56 cr in the March quarter and about Rs 9 cr a year ago.
Adjusted operating margin	4.9%	It keeps about Rs 4.90 of every Rs 100 of sales as operating profit. Up from 4.7% last quarter. Thin, but rising.
FY26 sales / profit	Rs 4,080 cr / Rs 115 cr	The full year to March 2026: the first year it made real money after years of losses.
P/E (price / earnings)	~75	You pay about 75 rupees for each rupee of yearly profit. Cheaper than the 116 at our last report because profit grew faster than the price, but still a rich price.
ROCE	~10%	Return on the money tied up in the business. Modest so far.

2. Concall coverage

Quarter	Call date	Transcript read?
Q3 FY26 (maiden call after Jan 2026 listing)	12 Feb 2026	Carried forward from the Q4-2026 report
Q4 FY26 (prior report's boundary)	14 May 2026	Carried forward from the Q4-2026 report
Q1 FY27 (Apr-Jun 2026)	31 Jul 2026	Newly deep-read in full ★

Only the Q1 FY27 call was read in full this time. The backstory comes from our Q4-2026 report. Shadowfax listed in January 2026, so three calls is its whole public history. The Q2 FY27 call (29 Oct 2026) falls outside this report's window and isn't used.

2b. Latest concall highlights, Q1 FY27 (call 31 Jul 2026) ★

- Growth guidance raised sharply. FY27 revenue growth now guided at 38-40%, up from 27-30% three months ago. Management says big customers share forward volume plans, so this isn't a guess. The margin path was kept unchanged: they'd rather reinvest extra profit or pass it to customers to win share.
- Record quarter through a rough patch. Revenue Rs 1,358 cr (+65% on the year, +10% on the quarter), orders near 25 crore (+83%), net profit Rs 65 cr. This came in a quarter with a diesel price jump, a gas crisis, state elections and a rider shortage.
- Costs it promised to cut came down. Lost-shipment and quality-check cost fell to 5.5% of revenue from 6.1% last quarter and 7.9% a year ago, helped by an AI camera check at pickup. Long-run target is 3.5-4%.
- New bets ahead of plan. 47 of the 100 promised dark stores were live by 30 June, with 20 more on the way. Prime Large (bulky goods) hit its full-year 10,000 pin-code target in one quarter, target raised to 12,000. Shadowfax 360 (self-serve for small sellers) has 1,200+ sellers in its first quarter. Amazon is now a top-10 customer.
- Tone: very bullish, calling it "build mode". Capex was front-loaded (about Rs 60 cr in the quarter) ahead of the festive season.

2c. Business mix & capacity

Domestic vs export: effectively 100% domestic. It's an India delivery network, so there's no export split to report.
Segments: Express Parcel is about three-quarters of revenue. Hyperlocal grew 53% on the year and 17% on the quarter. Dark stores now make up about 10-12% of the small Other Logistics line.
Capacity: no utilisation percentage disclosed. Coverage reached 16,372 pin codes (716 added in the quarter, about 8 a day) against a FY27 aim of about 17,000. New pin codes run below capacity at first, so there's headroom to fill.

2d. Since our last report ★

Builds on the Q4-2026 report (boundary call 14 May 2026). Prior verdicts: Trigger YES (but early), Consistency MAYBE (too little history).

Prior read	What we said then	What the new call shows	Movement
Earning trigger	Share gains in a consolidating market plus D2C mix; margins thin	Market share now 28-30% (from 27-29%), growth guide raised, margin up again	Confirmed
Consistency	Two calls, promises met, too short to judge	Third call: again met or beat on growth, margin and new lines	Improving
Lost-shipment cost	Stuck at 6.1%, target ~5%	5.5%, the clearest step down yet	Improving
Capex intensity	Still high, slow to normalise	Rs 60 cr in one quarter, front-loaded for the peak season	Slipping (by choice)
Amazon / big marketplace ramp	Onboarded, benefit to come	Amazon Now scaling, Express volumes started, Amazon in top 10	On-track
100 dark stores in FY27	Just announced	47 live by June, 20 more coming	On-track

Verdict change: trigger stays YES and gets firmer. Consistency is upgraded to YES: a third straight call where the numbers matched or beat what was said, and the one cost they kept getting asked about finally moved.

3. Earning trigger thesis ★

The story hasn't changed: Shadowfax is grabbing share as India's outsourced delivery market shrinks to two national players, and it's pushing into better-paying work (same-day delivery for D2C brands, bulky goods, dark stores for niche quick-commerce brands). Volume fills sort centres and pin codes that are already built, so margins should keep inching up. This quarter added a bigger growth number on top and showed the margin can rise even when fuel and labour costs jump.

Trigger	What management said	Evidence so far	Horizon	Strength	Change since last report
Market-share gains	Two big players taking share every quarter	Share 28-30%; revenue +65%; FY27 guide 38-40%	Now	Strong	↑ guide raised on customer volume plans
D2C / Prime same-day	Only national 3PL with same-day everywhere	Prime 2.7x on the year; 400+ D2C brands; SF360 1,200 sellers	1-3 yrs	Moderate-Strong	↑ growth sped up on a bigger base
Margin expansion	About 1-2 points a year to FY28	Adj. margin 4.3% → 4.7% → 4.9% over three quarters	To FY28	Moderate	↑ held up through a cost shock
New lines (Prime Large, dark stores, CriticaLog)	Experiments that scale	Prime Large ~Rs 75 cr run-rate, +170%; 47 dark stores; CriticaLog cross-sell starting	FY27+	Moderate	↑ ahead of targets
Quick-commerce outsourcing	50%+ share of outsourced QC; platforms outsource 12-15%	Hyperlocal +53%; Amazon Now in top 10	1-3 yrs	Moderate	↑ new, more detail given

4. Management consistency scorecard

Period	What was promised	What actually happened	Verdict
Feb 2026 (Q3)	Q4 at 90-95% of festive Q3	Q4 beat Q3 by 6.7%	Delivered
Feb-May 2026	Margin up about a point a year	4.3% → 4.7% → 4.9%	Delivered
May 2026 (Q4)	FY27 growth 27-30%	Q1 grew 65%; guide raised to 38-40%	Delivered (beat)
May 2026	Cut lost-shipment cost from 6.1% toward 5%	5.5% in Q1	Partly (moving)
May 2026	100 dark stores in FY27	47 live by June	On track
May 2026	Prime Large to 10,000 pin codes in FY27	Done in Q1; target now 12,000	Delivered early
Feb-May 2026	Capex to settle toward 2-2.5% of sales	Still heavy; Rs 60 cr in Q1 (seasonal)	Too early

Narrative drift: none worth flagging. The same three ideas (share gains, D2C mix, slow margin climb) run through all three calls, and each call has added proof rather than a new story. The one thing to keep an eye on is the habit of reinvesting any extra profit: management openly says it won't let margins run ahead of its plan, so faster growth won't mean faster margin gains. A question on the call about the anchor customer squeezing prices got a sensible, not defensive, answer.

5. Bottom line

Durable earning trigger? → YES

vs last quarter: unchanged (firmer)

Nothing weakened this quarter and a lot strengthened: growth guidance up by about ten points, a third straight quarter of margin gains, and the side bets (same-day, bulky goods, dark stores) running ahead of target. The driver is real and showing in the numbers. Margins are still thin at under 5%, so one big customer cutting rates or a sharper fuel spike would bite. The stock already prices in a lot of this.

Management consistent? → YES vs last quarter: upgraded from MAYBE

What moved it: a third call where nearly every promise was met or beaten, including the lost-shipment cost that had barely budged before. Three calls is still short, and capex hasn't settled yet, but so far they've said what they'd do and then done more of it. If the raised FY27 guide holds through the festive quarter, this read gets stronger.
