Kolte Patil Developers Ltd

Concall-Tracker report | Ticker: KOLTEPATIL (NSE) / 532924 (BSE) | Sector: Residential real estate

Quarter: Q2 2027 (Jul-Sep 2026) · NO-CONCALL web deep-dive path (no earnings call held since Jul 2025) · Information used up to 6 Nov 2026 · Figures in ₹ crore, consolidated

1. Snapshot

What the business does: Kolte-Patil builds and sells flats, mostly in Pune, with a smaller Mumbai business that rebuilds old housing societies and a token presence in Bengaluru. Its biggest asset is Life Republic, a 400+ acre township near Hinjewadi. Blackstone has owned 40% since Aug 2025 and shares control with the founding Patil family.

> Read this first: developers like Kolte book revenue only when a building is finished and handed over, not when a flat is sold. So quarterly revenue and profit swing with completions. The numbers that show how the business is actually trading are pre-sales (value of flats booked), collections (cash received from buyers) and launches.

Pre-sales, Q2 FY27	₹1,019 cr vs ₹670 cr, up 52% - the best quarter in its history, after a flat June quarter.
Pre-sales volume, Q2 FY27	1.30 mn sq ft vs 0.86, up 52% - this time growth came from selling more homes, not raising prices. Average price was flat at ₹7,829/sq ft.
Pre-sales, H1 FY27	₹1,636 cr, up 27%; volume up 15% - the half is clearly ahead of last year's ₹1,286 cr.
Collections, Q2 FY27	₹795 cr vs ₹596 cr, up 33% - cash from buyers keeps coming in on schedule, the steadiest line in the business.
Reported Q2 profit	Net profit ~₹5 cr vs a ₹10 cr loss; EBITDA margin ~5% - few completions this quarter, so little revenue was booked. Says nothing about demand.
Net debt (30 Sep 2026)	Company says net cash ₹466 cr - but that deducts ₹432 cr of zero-coupon debentures as if they weren't debt. Count them and it's roughly break-even: cash ₹943 cr vs gross debt ₹909 cr.
Ownership	Blackstone 40.0%, Patil family 33.8% - unchanged since the 2025 deal.
Valuation	Market cap ~₹4,060 cr, P/E ~21, ~2.9x book - still priced on the pipeline, not on reported profit.

2. Concall coverage

Period	What exists	Read?
FY22 → Q1 FY26 (and 2016 calls)	20 transcripts; last call 30 Jul 2025	Carried forward from Q1-2027 report
Q2 FY26 → Q4 FY26	Calls cancelled; presentations only	Carried forward
Q1 FY27 (Aug 2026)	Call cancelled; presentation 10 Aug 2026	Prior boundary (Q1-2027 report)
Q2 FY27 (Nov 2026) ★	Investor presentation 3 Nov 2026; no transcript on Screener or exchange filings	Newly read in full

No earnings-call transcript exists for the past five quarters - this report is a web deep-dive. Kolte hasn't held a results call since 30 Jul 2025. Screener lists the Nov 2026 period with a presentation and no transcript, the same pattern as the four quarters before. The new CEO, Hrishikesh Parandekar, joined in Aug 2026 and still hasn't faced analysts.

Latest update highlights - Q2 FY27 (presentation, 3 Nov 2026)

- Record bookings. Pre-sales ₹1,019 cr, up 52%, on record volume - the first real proof in two years that buyers are coming back in numbers.
- One launch did the heavy lifting. Vyana at The Reserve, Pune: 1.01 mn sq ft launched, ₹616 cr booked against a ₹752 cr launch value - about four-fifths of what was launched sold in the same quarter. The Reserve is a 5 mn sq ft, ~₹4,000 cr project, so there are more phases to come.
- Mumbai went quiet. Mumbai pre-sales ₹48 cr vs ₹183 cr in June - the high-price market that the Blackstone story leans on barely sold this quarter.
- Cash kept flowing. Collections ₹795 cr (+33%), operating cash flow ₹225 cr (+18%) - it paid back ₹52 cr of zero-coupon debentures in the quarter.
- Tone: slide-deck only. Upbeat ("highest-ever", "strongest-ever launch") with no numerical guidance for the year.

Business mix & capacity

Where Q2 sales came from (₹1,019 cr): Pune excluding Life Republic ₹801 cr (79%) · Life Republic ₹171 cr (17%) · Mumbai ₹48 cr (5%) - this quarter was almost entirely a Pune story. All sales are domestic.
Project portfolio (30 Sep 2026): 35.4 mn sq ft, ~₹32,100 cr GDV (gross development value) vs 38.0 mn sq ft and ~₹34,400 cr in June. Ongoing-and-unsold 5.3 mn sq ft; under approval 5.7; land bank 24.4. Mumbai shows 2.9 mn sq ft / ₹7,400 cr vs 3.5 mn sq ft / ₹8,900 cr in June - the portfolio shrank more than one quarter's sales explain, and the deck doesn't say why. The Mumbai project count also reads 17 now vs 19 in the June deck.

Since our last report ★ (builds on the Q1-2027 report, presentation of 10 Aug 2026)

Prior verdicts: Trigger MAYBE ("real but unproven") · Consistency NO ("poor").

Prior read	What we said then	What the new quarter shows	Movement
Trigger	Blackstone platform real; pre-sales flat for two years	Record pre-sales and volume, driven by one Pune launch	Improving
Consistency	Missed guidance, then a year of cancelled calls	Fifth quarter with no call; disclosed numbers still reconcile	Unchanged
Pre-sales volumes falling	Down 23% in Q1; price doing the work	Up 52% in Q2 at flat prices	Improving
Mumbai pipeline converts	₹6,000 cr GDV added in Aug	Mumbai pre-sales fell to ₹48 cr; Mumbai GDV in the deck went down	Slipping
New CEO holds a call	"The single most informative event ahead"	No call held	Not done
Launch engine	Only 0.78 mn sq ft in Q1	1.01 mn sq ft in Q2; H1 1.80 vs 1.52	Improving

Verdict change: both unchanged. The trigger moved the right way, but one Pune launch isn't yet a trend, and the Mumbai side went backwards. On consistency, a new CEO had the chance to restart calls and didn't.

3. Earning Trigger thesis

The trigger: Blackstone's money turning a Pune builder into a multi-city platform

The case is that Blackstone's capital and governance let Kolte buy land and redevelopment rights faster, launch more, and shift toward pricier Mumbai homes. This quarter finally showed the "launch more" part working: Vyana sold out most of its first phase and pushed bookings to a record. What hasn't shown up is the Mumbai part. Mumbai sales fell to a sliver and the deck now values the Mumbai pipeline lower than in June, even after the six-project addition. So the near-term driver is Pune launches; the bigger Mumbai story is still on paper.

Trigger	What the company said	Evidence so far	Horizon	Strength	Change since last report
Pune launches (The Reserve)	"Strongest-ever launch"; 5 mn sq ft multi-phase project	₹616 cr booked in the launch quarter	Now → FY29	Strong	new this quarter
MMR redevelopment	"Reaffirming MMR as a priority market"	Six projects (~₹6,000 cr) added; Q2 Mumbai sales ₹48 cr; Mumbai GDV shown lower	FY28-FY31	Moderate	↓ weakening: not converting yet
Collections / cash	Faster collections	H1 ₹1,509 cr (+32%); OCF ₹437 cr	Now	Strong	unchanged
Price-led growth	Price revisions, premium mix	H1 realisation +10%, but Q2 flat as Pune dominated	Now	Medium	↓ less important this quarter
Revenue recognition	Completions drive income	H1 income ₹1,288 cr (record) on 1.63 mn sq ft completed; Q2 thin	FY27-FY28	Medium	unchanged, lumpy

4. Management Consistency scorecard

Period	Promised	What happened	Verdict
Jul 2025 (last call held)	30%+ FY26 pre-sales growth; ~₹5,000 cr launches; teen margins	FY26 pre-sales down 6.7%; launch value never disclosed; operating loss	Missed badly
Aug-Sep 2025	Blackstone deal and open offer	Executed exactly as described	Delivered
Nov 2025 → Aug 2026	"Integration and leadership transition"	Four calls cancelled; CEO seat empty ~9.5 months	Opaque
Aug 2026	Scale up MMR	Six Mumbai projects (~₹6,000 cr GDV) signed	Delivered
Nov 2026 (Q2 FY27)	No numeric guidance given	Record pre-sales and collections; no call again; Mumbai GDV and project count fall without explanation	Mixed

Narrative drift: the slide-deck story has been stable for a year: institutional platform, premium mix, Mumbai expansion. What's missing is anyone answering questions about it. The last numeric promise (July 2025) failed badly, and the company has avoided making another or explaining the miss. This quarter's deck also quietly shows a smaller portfolio and fewer Mumbai projects than June's, with no note on why. To be fair, the reported numbers have matched the filings and collections have hit every mark, and the Q2 sales jump is real.

5. Bottom line

Durable earning trigger? → MAYBE (vs last quarter: unchanged, but improving)

This is the first quarter in two years where bookings grew on volume, and the size of the Vyana launch suggests real buyer demand in Pune. More phases of The Reserve give it a runway. It isn't a YES yet because one launch made the quarter, and the Mumbai half of the story, the part that justifies the Blackstone premium, went the wrong way. Two more quarters of Pune launches selling like this, plus a Mumbai launch, would move it up.

Management consistent? → NO (vs last quarter: unchanged)

A new CEO arrived in August and still no call. That's five straight quarters without analyst questions, after a guidance miss that was never explained, and this quarter's deck changed the pipeline numbers without comment. What keeps this from getting worse is that what they do publish holds up and cash keeps coming in. The verdict stays here until management talks.
