About two years of public filings. With no calls, there is no guidance to test, so the consistency read is limited.

Latest update highlights (results, annual report, news)

- Sep 2026 quarter sales up 17% on a year ago with a 43% operating margin, the best of the last thirteen quarters shown.
- First project outside Jalandhar and Ludhiana: Utopia by AGI in New Chandigarh got GMADA approval on 1 Apr 2026: 10.26 acres, 661 flats of 3, 4 and 5 BHK.
- Urbana Square (shops and offices, Jalandhar) launched for booking on 3 Jan 2026; the FY26 annual report shows it 47% booked.
- Bookings climbed in projects launched recently: Jalandhar Heights IV went from 13% to 32% sold, Prestige by AGI from nothing to 31%, Smart Home II from 65% to 83% between the two annual reports.

Business mix & capacity

- Domestic vs export: all domestic, Punjab only.

- Capacity: not a factory business. The FY26 annual report lists eleven projects under construction; several older ones are almost fully sold, while Jalandhar Heights IV, Prestige by AGI and AGI Sky Villas still have most or much of their units unsold.

3. Earning trigger thesis

The earnings story is the next round of Jalandhar launches being sold and built, plus a first step out of Jalandhar into New Chandigarh, with Mohali also talked about. The QIP money funds construction of the ongoing projects. It's plausible, but the bigger new projects are early in their sales, and sales growth slowed to single digits in FY26 before picking up in the Sep 2026 quarter.

Trigger	What management said	Evidence so far	Time horizon	Strength
New city: New Chandigarh (and Mohali)	Both annual reports: proposal to start projects in Mohali and New Chandigarh 'is on the anvil'	New Chandigarh project Utopia approved by GMADA, Apr 2026; no Mohali project yet	2-4 years	Unproven: approved, not yet selling
New Jalandhar launches selling down	Annual reports list bookings project by project	Jalandhar Heights IV 13%→32% sold, Prestige 0→31%, Urbana Square 47%	Ongoing	Moderate
Margin	Annual report gives no explanation for the margin rise	Operating margin 29% (FY25) → 35% (FY26) → 43% (Sep 2026 qtr)	Unclear	Weak: unexplained

3b. Trigger check

Trigger type	Yes/No	What was said (date)
Debt cut	No	Not stated
New business	Yes	Utopia by AGI, the first New Chandigarh project, GMADA approval 1 Apr 2026 (news, Apr 2026)
Margin up	No	Margin rose in the numbers but the filings give no stated reason
New management	No	Only a new additional director (Mrs Nandini Kwatra) on the board, Mar 2026
New capacity	No	Not a factory business
Big orders	No	Not applicable
Turnaround	No	Not applicable
Promoter buying	No	Promoter stake fell after the QIP

Single concrete driver: New housing launches in Jalandhar and a first project in New Chandigarh, funded partly by the QIP.

3c. Margin bridge

Operating margin was 35% in FY26 against 29% in FY25, and 43% in the Sep 2026 quarter. The annual report doesn't explain why; in property, margin depends on which projects are handed over in a period, so it can swing. Not explained by the company (one-off until shown otherwise).

4. Management consistency scorecard

Period	What was promised	What actually happened	Verdict
			Partly

Annual Report 2024-25	Proposal to start projects in Mohali and New Chandigarh	New Chandigarh project approved Apr 2026; Mohali not started; same line repeated in the 2025-26 report
Annual Report 2024-25	Sell the newly listed projects (Jalandhar Heights III Extension, Smart Home II Extension, Prestige, Urbana Square)	All four booked from zero to between 31% and 90% a year later	Delivered
QIP, Mar 2026 quarter	Use Rs 56 cr for construction of ongoing projects	Rs 48.5 cr used by 31 Mar 2026	Delivered

The annual-report story barely changes year to year (the Mohali and New Chandigarh line is copied word for word). That's steady, not a sign of drift, but it's also thin: there's no guidance and no investor call to test management against.

5. Bottom line

Durable earning trigger? → MAYBE

The new launches are selling and New Chandigarh is approved, so there is a named path to growth. But the new city hasn't started selling, FY26 sales growth was only single digits, and the margin jump has no explanation, so it isn't proven yet.

Management consistent? → MAYBE

What the filings said would happen mostly did (projects sold down, QIP money spent as stated), and New Chandigarh arrived. Mohali has been 'on the anvil' for two years, and with no calls and no targets the record is too thin to call fully consistent.

6. Checkpoints for next quarter

- Utopia by AGI in New Chandigarh opens for booking
- Sales keep growing on a year ago in the December quarter
- Jalandhar Heights IV and Prestige bookings keep rising
